

Catherine Vial

Team Leader, Environmental Industries
U.S. Department of Commerce

Catherine Vial started as the Team Leader for Environmental Industries in January 2007. Her responsibilities include working with 15 industry analysts both in the environmental and the energy teams, and providing leadership and counsel on issues related to alternative energy and environmental technologies. She works closely with both industry representatives and U.S. and foreign government officials to advocate for U.S. industry on issues of domestic and international competitiveness. Ms. Vial has served in a variety of positions within the U.S. Department of Commerce. She graduated from the Georgetown University. She was born in France. She speaks French and understands Spanish and Italian. She lives in Washington, D.C.